

SMALL COMMUNITIES OF FAITH (SCF)

Small groups meet in homes (with a trained facilitator) to read the Scriptures, pray, and discuss sacred readings emphasizing “What the Scriptures are saying, TODAY, in the 21st century.” Members share their faith and become better grounded in Catholic values. SCFs build community and participants feel more connected to the larger parish. SCF groups typically meet once or twice a month-fall through spring. Many groups meet weekly in Lent and Advent.
